Must doubetedly of the lettuce family, and be sold at once. Can be seen at home of known commonly as wild lettuce, which has been known to grow as high as 13 feet. They are not a menace to agriculture, because if cut off a couple of seasons they will disappear, and are easily killed. The stocks were about three-quarters of an inch in diameter and quite bardy and sufficiently strong to resist storms. Judge Irwin is of the opinion that these are the bighest weeds that grow in this section, and might answer fairly well for fishing rods.

And then others wanted their holdings and these gentlemen "let go" at a nice figure, and the new people kept business humming until the last timber stick was converted into merchantable lumber. And now practically all the buildings have been razed and the lumber in them has been transported to other places and rebuilt into convenient homes for lumbermen. -The little brown or white rodent known as the wessel is a source of revenue and furnishing pin money for the boys as well as grown men living in the country these days. The late bounty law provides for the payment of $2.00 for the scalp of one of these little enemies to poultry and small game, and it is no uncommon thing for the county tressury to be drawn upon to the extent of $10 to $20 in a single day for the distruction of the pest. It is a little expensive at the beginning but will grow less as the weasels are thinned out, and at the rate they are being taken they cannot hold out long, and the death of every weasel means the saving of no end of pheasants which are their choicest prey. Besides the state finally pays the bill from the fund raised by hunters' licenses. A little fellow in knee pants was met the other day who had two of the noxious animals on a string, and when complimented on his good luck he pulled a small roll out of his pocket with the exultant remark, "Yes, and I've got the $4 00 right here." Get into the game, boys.

ARMBURGER. Jacob Armburger died at his home at Black Ash, Crawford county, Pa., Nov. 29, 1913, after an illness of two years, during which he was a patient sufferer, always looking on the bright side of life. He was a good and kind husband, father, brother, neighbor and friend. He was a consistent member of the McDaniel Reform church, having united with the church in youth,

Mr. Armburger was born in Germany, April 15, 1830. He came to America with his parents when 2 years old. He spent his boybood days in Vernon township, Crawford county. In 1954 he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Keobart of Vernon township. To this union was born seven children, all of whom, with their mother survive him. Among the sons surviving is our citizen. Henry Armburger of Hunter Station. Impressive funeral services were held at the late home of the deceased on Monday, and were stiended by a large concourse of sympathizing neighbors and friends. Rev. Mr. Shupe conducted the services MOON.

Magdelene Kiester Moon was born near Knox, Clarion county, Pa., Dec. 26, 1826, and died Dec. 1, 1913, at the home of her daughter in Titusville, after an illness of a few months duration but by which she was confined to her bed only about two weeks. She grew to young womanhood in the community of her birth, and in the fall of 1848 she was united in marriage with Cephas W. Moon, whose death oc curred fourteen years ago. Of this union three sons and two daughters survive, James L. of Grove City, Pa., Ruben W of Tionesta, Mary Moon, residing in Mercer county, Mrs. Jenuie Jones of Titusville, and Louis G. of Oil City. The family resided alternately in Mercer county, Pa., in Ohio, and at Tionesta, they having removed from here to Mercer county in 1892, after a residence in Tionesta of about ten years, and where the decessed is still pleasantly remembered by a large circle of friends as a good Christian woman and a kind neighbor ever ready to lend a helping hand in time of need. Mrs. Moon had been a consistent member of the Presbyterian church from her youth, and her faith in its teachings sustained her to the end of her ong life.

Charles J. Schroeder, for more than 40 years traveling salesman for the P. Min nig Co., wholesale grocers of Erie, Pa., died at his home in that city Thursday evening, Nov. 27, 1913, of ursemic poison, after an illness of less than a week, al though he had not been in robust health for a year past. He was aged 66 years, and was born near Lock Haven, Pa. About 32 years ago Mr. Schroeder was united in marriage with Miss Mary Youngk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Youngk, then residents of Green township, Forest county, Of this union five children, with their mother, survive, namely, Edwin, Irene, Mabel, Mary and Charles Jr. Four sisters and one brother also survive him.

Perhaps no man who traveled through his section was better known and surely none more highly esteemed than was Charlie Schreder. Always the same quiet, unassming, yet jovial and goodnatured gentleman, he had a firm friend in every sequaintance. During his long service with the one concern his dealines were so honorable and fair that we doubt whether he ever lost a customer once gained. Mr. Schreeder was a faithful member of the Lutheran church and in his devotion to the principles of Christbelped their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wil- isnity he was ever unfattering. Many riends throughout this section will b pained to learn of the sudden passing of this excellent man, and his fortnightly visits will be greatly missed by all who had the pleasure of knowing him intimately.

Fremont Paper Box Company Expanding

Under the above caption the Fremon Obio) Daily Messenger of a recent date has the following to say of the increase in business at A. H. Gordon's box factory, all of which will be pleasing news to Allan's many friends here:

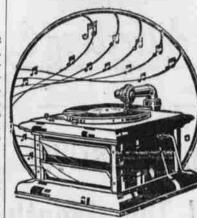

Business of the Fremont Paper Box company, operating a factory on West State street, is increasing so rapidly that the present force of 23 girls is not nearly duct of the factory. Five new machines have already been installed in the last few days and two more are on the road. the building. "Orders are coming in so of the company, told the Messenger Wednesday morning, "that we simply can't take care of them under the present conditions. We are at least 30 days be hind in filling our orders, which continue to come in rapidly." The paper box factory was established here about a year ago by Mr. Gordon and Mr. Galen Shirley, both of Elkhart, Ind. The latter is the secretary and treasurer of the company. The Fremont Chamber of Commerce through C. A. Hochenedel, its ascretary at that time, assisted the promoters considerably in securing the
